

WESMAR IS ON-THE-MOVE!

New State-of-the-Art Facility Announced

WESMAR is pleased to announce that the company will be moving to a brand-new facility by August 31st. The new manufacturing facility is being built to WESMAR specifications and will provide more efficient and streamlined operations.

The Company is currently fulfilling existing orders and building inventory to minimize customer disruptions during the transition. During August production will be shut down for a brief period while we move to our new facility. Please consider this in your supply chain planning.

As always WESMAR is committed to supporting our customers. Please plan on longer production lead-times during August and September. We expect our move to have minimal impact but appreciate your communication and consideration during this period.

Thank you for your time, consideration, and continued support of WESMAR!
